Vista Center's Technology Education Conference

Saturday, September 28, 2019

9:00 am - 3:00 pm

Host: UCSC Silicon Valley Campus

3175 Bowers Avenue, Santa Clara, CA 95054

Vista Center empowers individuals who are blind or visually impaired to embrace life to the fullest through evaluation, counseling, education, and training.

About the Conference

Vista Center's annual conference provides a platform for assistive technology users, tech researchers, and software developers, along with friends and family of our blind and visually impaired community, to collaborate, exchange ideas, and discuss best practices in the field of technology accessibility.

- Listen and learn about the latest Access Technology solutions and systems
- Hear from the technical experts, and share your real-life accessibility challenges
- Engage with product designers and software developers

Our conference creates a collaborative environment for all participants who are interested in leveling the playing field - for gainful employment, performing daily living tasks - for a more current, competent, and connected future.

Agenda

Attendees/participants will take away a tangible roadmap for developing and adopting assistive technologies that empower our blind and visually impaired community to live a more independent life with dignity.

- Welcome, opening Keynote, Coffee/Continental Breakfast
- Morning Breakout: 3-4 content sessions
- Luncheon, Keynote speaker
- Afternoon Breakout: 3-4 content sessions
- VIP Reception

Keynote Speaker

A highly recognized professional who will support organizations that empower individuals with disabilities to live independently and embrace life to the fullest, through the adoption of cutting edge access technology. TBC
